Three Children Suffer Dog Bites In 3 Days, One Dog Still Sought

By Russ Greenbaum

Unless the police can find the dog that bit seven-year-old Jimmy Hickey of 28-C Crescent last Saturday, Jimmy will have to undergo the painful series of rabies shots. The deadline is 14 days, the time it takes for a dog to show whether or not it is rabid. If the dog is not found by then, the shots will have to be given to avoid any risk to the young boy.

Police describe the dog as all black except for a white ring around its mouth, possibly a Spitz, fat, and with a curly tail. Anyone seeing this dog is urged to contact the Greenbelt police office immediately. Jimmy was one of three youngsters bitten by dogs in three days. The other two dogs, however, were traced to their owners and are now being observed for possible development of rabies. One of the dogs has received an anti-rabies injection, but the other was too young to get the shot.

Radar Survey

Police Chief Jim Williams has announced the completion of the first step in a long-range survey of the traffic habits of Greenbelt residents. Using a radar car parked first on Crescent Road near Lakewood and then on Ridge Road near the Methodist Church, the police clocked motorists using those main thoroughfares.

Chief Williams said that he was satisfied that, while the vast majority of drivers do not adhere strictly to the 25-mile-per hour speed limit, very few travel more than five miles per hour above this limit. He reported that generally local motorists drive their cars at "safe, reasonable speeds." Future speed checks will be made periodically as part of an overall study to see if any changes are needed in the city's traffic pattern or traffic regulations.

One problem that the police are finding some difficulty in coping with is the increasing number of young children in the four to six age bracket who are setting fires as a result of playing with matches. Each child who is discovered is given a thorough lecture on the dangers of fire, and so far there have been no repeaters. The danger of this practice will be increased when the woods become dry during the summer months.

Tots Choo-Choo Trip Co-op Nursery Hi-Lite

The rare treat of blowing a real train whistle and seeing the tracks from the engineer's vantage point made a thrilling occasion of the Greenbelt Nursery School's train ride last Thursday. Fifteen 3- to 5-year-old children, seven mothers, and three teachers made the trip on a B&O commuter between Laurel and Washington, where they toured Union Station and were treated to ice cream. On the return trip they sat in the front coach of the train with the door open to the engineer's cab, and it was from this location that they were invited in small groups to come forward and meet the engineer.

Excursions of this sort form part of each year's instructional program for the Nursery School. Already this year the children have visited the College Park Airport, the Golden Rule Dairy, the Co-op Supermarket, and the Greenbelt fire station. Scheduled in the near future are trips to a lumber yard and to a bakery. A swimming party is also planned.

On Tuesday, May 12, the Nursery School held its annual picnic at Greenbelt Lake.

25 Occupy Lakewood Homes as City Grows

As evidence of the steady growth of Greenbelt, Lakewood, which is the latest development to get started, now claims an occupancy of 25 homes, the News Review has learned from the W. Evans Buchanan firm, the private builder constructing the homes off Crescent Road between St. Hugh's and Greenbelt Lake Park. Eight to ten families are scheduled to move in tomorrow.

Begun as recently as last September, the development is completely sold out, with the total of 107 homes now in various stages of construction. A group of eight or ten homes is completed every two or three weeks, the News Review was informed.

The first major additions to the original construction by the U. S. Government of Greenbelt residences (now incorporated under Greenbelt Homes, Inc.) were two cooperative developments—Lakeside and Woodland Hills. Thirty homes in the Lakeside section, begun about five years ago, are now occupied. Two other homes are under construction, and 28 vacant lots remain, all owned by separate individuals.

The first group of homes in the Woodland Hills cooperative have been occupied now about a year. Altogether, 32 families are now living in the development. Forty-nine lots are still available, two owned by the co-op, the rest by private individuals. Of those owned privately, two are also available on a resale basis.

Two Third Prizes Won By North End Teams

By Rachelle Chasnoff, Age 12

The weekend our drill team had been waiting for so long has finally come and gone. The drill teams were formed and trained by Joseph O'Loughlin, a 6th grade teacher at the North End School. Last Friday we won third place in the elementary division in the girls' class, at the National AAA Drill Team Competition at Ft. Myer, Va. We lost first place to St. Gabriel's School and second place to the host, Ft. Myer.

The boys drill team placed third behind Painsville, Ohio, who won first and Jacksonville Beach, Fla., who placed second.

Both of our teams are composed of girls and boys from the ages of 10 to 12. The girls' team was headed by Captain Cathy Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoffman, 114 Northway. The boys' team was headed by Sergeant Ronnie Newkirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Newkirk, 20-G Hillside.

On Saturday the drill teams marched in the Safety Patrol Parade on Constitution ave. Our teams were part of the Prince Georges County Unit, which was composed of 300 marchers, including the High Point Band and the county float, which was built by the North End School boys and girls. After the parade it was announced that the Prince Georges Unit was awarded a prize for the best appearing unit in Division IV of the parade.

ketty, plaster of paris, clay, nature crafts, pot holder, plastic lace and etc. A different project will be introduced each evening.

There is no fee for the Workshop, however, a small charge will be made to cover the cost of materials used and those attending are requested to bring their own scissors and pencils. For further information call Prince Georges County Recreation Department, AP. 7-8696.

Music on the Lawn As Band Greets Spring

The Greenbelt Band is giving its Spring Concert on the lawn of the Center School, Monday evening, May 18 at 7:45 o'clock. In case of inclement weather, the concert will be held in the auditorium of Center School.

The musical program will be presented by 28 band members and their band director Don Smith. The following selections will be presented: Regiment Band March, Fillmore; Rosebud Waltz and Magdalen Waltz, Fillmore; Starlight Overture, O'Neill; Holiday Moods, Verrall; Bella Donna Overture, Irons; Bendemeer's Stons; Bendemeer's Stream, Irish Folk Tune; Trombero (trombone trio), Cofield; and the Swedish Rhapsody.

The band members look forward to displaying their accomplishments to parents and friends of Greenbelt.

Summer Band Program

Last year the Greenbelt Band sponsored a summer program of band instructions for beginner students interested in learning to play a band instrument. The course was so successful that the Parent's Board is arranging with Band Director Don Smith to repeat the program this coming season. Children now in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades are invited to participate in this musical experience.

If the child does not have his own instrument, the Band has instruments for loan. Should the child prefer to rent or time-purchase an instrument from a music store, arrangements will be made to help you.

The summer program gives parent and child an opportunity to try and then decide from experience which instrument or musical education is desirable for him. Instructions will be given by Smith, at hours to be arranged, one session for each group of instrumentalists per week. The tuition for group instruction will be $1 weekly.

If you are interested in your child taking part in the summer program, contact Mrs. Imogene McCarthy, chairman of the Parents Board, GR 4-4321 or the Band Secretary, Mrs. Helen Hufendick, GR 4-6135.

County Rec Dep Holds Craft Workshop

The Prince Georges County Recreation Department will hold a Summer Crafts Workshop at the Riverdale Elementary School, 5006 Riverdale Road, and at Benjamin Stoddert Jr. High School, 2501 Olson Street, Marlow Heights, Md. The workshop is designed especially for adult leaders in summer camp, church school and playground programs, but all interested adults are welcome to attend.

Classes at the Riverdale Elementary School will be held on Wednesday, May 20, 27, and June 3 and at Benjamin Stoddert Jr. High School on Thursday, May 21, 28, and June 4. All classes will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The program will include bas-

Now that the campaign is over . . .

Please note that city trash collection policies are in force. (These are reprinted in this week's GHI Newsletter, for the convenience of members.) No regular roadside pick-ups will be made by the city. City regulations were waived during the campaign only. It is now against the law to place piles of trash beside the road.

"That messy area doesn't belong to me, so why should I clean it up?" Have you said this? If so, here are some answers:

- 1) That mess didn't get there by itself; someone has violated the anti-litter ordinance—either past or present tenants of the area or passers-by.
- 2) If you have seen someone discard rubbish of any description in this area, you have neglected to call the police.
- 3) YOU must live with the condition and see it every day until YOU & YOUR NEIGHBORS decide to do what you possibly can about having this condition corrected.
- 4) After you have done what you possibly can, we advise you to write a joint letter to the City & GHI, where concerned, for further assistance if needed, reporting what you have done and what needs to be done by special heavy equipment or material needed to make it presentable.
- 5) Set an example for your children by your habits.

REPORTS IN WRITING are desired to be included in the contest entry for the National Cleanest Town Contest. There is plenty of time, but your committee would appreciate receiving a short note on Who did What towards making Greenbelt the Cleanest Town in Maryland. Our committee is VOLUNTEER and cannot cover the entire City as a full time paid reporter can, so PLEASE let us know what you have done as Groups so that credit may be given where due in our final report.

There seems to have been a great deal of FIXING UP, including additions to porches, rooms, etc.; unfortunately, we have not been able to find out how many homeowners did what, though it would be very interesting to know for our statistical report. Pictures of your individual and group activities are sorely needed; PLEASE help us help you put GREENBELT on the TOP of the "Cleanest Town" list.

High Point High Points

By Marion Ryss

"Ariane Overture," L'Arlesienne Suite II, Irish Tune From Country Derry," and, accompanied by the chorus, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," can all be heard on Saturday, May 16, at the annual Spring Concert. This year the Glee Club will have a joint concert with the band. One of their selections will be "Great is the Lord," which was written by a music teacher at Buck Lodge Junior high school.

The concert will be from 7:45 till 8:45 p.m. For an hour of pure entertainment, put down your mere 75c and don't miss your big chance of the year.

High Point's great golf team has come away with the 1959 Prince Georges County Golf Championship. On Thursday, May 15 the golf team will tee off against Montgomery Blair. The best of luck to them on this game.

Junior and Sophomore Classes will hold meetings 1st and 2nd period respectively on Monday, May 18, for the express purpose of hearing the campaign speeches of those running for next year's class offices.

National Honor Society will hold its Spring Induction on Tuesday, May 19. They will take in approximately twenty juniors and a few seniors. To be eligible for Honor Society a student must have a B or higher average, and excel in scholarship, leadership, service to the school, and citizenship.

Montgomery Blair will face the batting skill of the High Point baseball team as well as the golf team at a home game on Thursday, May 21. High Point students will have the opportunity to attend this game and should.

A half day reprieve can be expected on Wednesday, May 20. This is the date of the monthly teacher's meeting. Back assignments, homework, and shopping can be done on this day without the usual feeling of, shouldn't I be in school now taking a test? So, take a deep breath and enjoy it while it lasts.

High Point, being the breeding place of scholars, has emerged with some of the top honors from the George Washington University Competitive English Examination for Secondary School Students. One junior team consisting of Leroy Richardson, Peter Wolf, Sally Robb, Bob Starr, and Gerald Blum, and one senior team made up of Dorothy Conant, Roy Thorton, Ro-

"GENUINE OPPORTUNITY"

To the Editor:

Thank you for your editorial comment, "Infrequent Opportunity," relative to revision of the GHI by-laws. Mr. Bernard Bordenet, one of the original writers of our by-laws, has agreed to work with the committee on this project.

I'd like to second your comment that this should be a genuine opportunity for interested members to participate by contributing their special talents to the use of their corporation.

The first meeting of the committee will be held in the board room of the Administration Building, Hamilton Place, Tuesday, May 19, at 8 p.m. Members are urged to come that night, call me (6468), write me (14-Z-3 Laurel Hill), or (if the altitude of Laurel Hill is too much for you) send a St. Bernard with your ideas (and don't forget the keg of brandy).

The problem of the quorum is one of our biggest—I'd be willing to personally offer a prize for the best workable solution to this most frustrating of all aspects of working with GHI.

Business Picture Developing Here

Two enterprising 12-year-olds are the guiding spirits behind those neatly hand printed business cards which were distributed door-to-door last Saturday on Lakeside and a few courts on Crescent. David Levenson, of Silver Spring, and Judy Sinkov, Lakeside Circle, life-long friends, have gone into the photo developing business together under the name of DJL Photo Labs.

Where did they get the name for their enterprise? "We, you see," Judy said, "his first name begins with D and mine begins with J and his last name begins with L, so we put them all together and got DJL."

David, according to his mother, has always been getting into one sort of business or another. First he obliged all his friends by taking their finger prints. Then he got a printing set and started printing all kinds of signs. The photo developing activity is his latest enterprise. He has done a good deal of developing already for his classmates, his mother reports—doing [really creditable work, too, she claims. But he does not have an enlarger as yet and can only turn out prints the size of the negatives brought to him.

Although the advertisements which they distributed gave the Levenson residential phone num-

Judy informed the News Review, but a consultation of partners must precede any such development.

Forty-eight padders in 39 canoes and foldboats participated in the White Water Race down the Potomac from Great Falls to Sycamore Island. Capturing first place in the Miscellaneous Boat Section was Bruce Bowman and daughter Sandy, 14-Z-3 Laurel. Coming in fourth in the 2-man Canoe Section were Don and Jon McElderry, 11-T Ridge.

The choir of the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church employed this ruse to surprise two of their members: Rita Fisher's invitation read . . . Bridal Shower for Jackie Burt—while Jackie Burt's invitation read . . . Baby Shower for Rita Fisher. Very tricky indeed.

How very thoughtful of Mr. and Mrs. B. Moores, 7-D Plateau, who telephoned a very special Mother's Day greeting to some of friends. The Moores, both in their seventies, serenaded the mothers, and their song, "Happy Mother's Day,"

Glad to hear that Miriam Laster, 15-A Ridge, is home from the hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Atop a picnic table, midst hamburgers, hotdogs, and potato salad, Bruce Bowman installed the newly elected officials of the North End PTA.

The North End Kindergarteners had their juice and cookies at kindergartener Carol Baxter's home on Route 50.

Needless to say, the Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School tots enjoyed their recent train trip.

Visiting Evelyn Wagner, 2-D Northway, are her nieces, Barbara and Julie and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lipton of Park Forest, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kosiskys, Sr., 2-E Laurel, have four new grandchildren: a boy in December for the Richard Kosiskys, a boy in January for the Robert Kosiskys, a boy in February for the Daniel Kosiskys, and a girl in April for the Joseph Kosiskys, Jr. This makes a total of 18 grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kosiskys, Sr. are long-time residents of Greenbelt, having been one of the first to reside here.

When The Siren Blows

By Rita Fisher

When the siren blows, do you wonder what the call is for? One blast is usually a call for the Rescue Squad, meaning an ambulance is needed. Two blasts (on Saturday at noon time) or any time is just for testing the siren. Three blasts is to indicate all equipment may be, and usually is, needed, the main reasons being a report of a fire or an automobile accident.

Brush fires are the major cause of fire calls. Most of these fires are caused by children who have taken matches from their homes and walked into the wooded areas where they can light matches secretly. If parents would be a little more careful about leaving matches where children can get them, perhaps the siren won't have to go off as often. And our wooded areas would remain as nature created them, without black patches. Above all, our fireman would not have to be exposed to the danger of smoke inhalation or taken from their homes unnecessarily.

There are other fire hazards which can be avoided. Electric dryers are one. In an upcoming issue of this paper, we will cite instances and warn of dangers involved.

Whose Cigarette..

When Frank McElderry, 11-T Ridge, left the Co-op with two bags of groceries and walked over to his car, he thought he smelled smoke. When he turned around to look at the back seat, he discovered it was burning. There was the tell-tale mark of a cigarette to indicate the cause of the fire.

Being close to the fire-house, McElderry drove up to the front of it for assistance. Seeing no men there, he picked up the fire-board emergency phone and asked for help. Thirteen men immediately responded to the three blasts of the siren, which is the usual call for fire or automobile accidents.

The smoldering fire was quickly extinguished, but there certainly was damage done to the rear seat. The point is this, though, McElderry does not smoke. This fact leads to the assumption that someone else put that cigarette in the car. Negligence? Was that cigarette thrown from the hand of someone in another car as it passed by? Most cars in use today are equipped with ash-trays. For safety's sake, please use them! And be a little thoughtful of the thirteen volunteer firemen who stopped whatever they were doing in answer to a summons for help.

Library Film Program

If you have missed the film program on art which has had three showings so far, you can still see a few outstanding films in the air conditioned comfort of the Hyattsville Library. The next showing will be held on Thursday, May 21 at 8:15 p.m. Two color films will be shown—one presenting a survey of art in the western world by concentrating on objects exhibited at the National Gallery; the other exploring the New York State farm where Grandma Moses lives, showing how her everyday experiences have been incorporated into her remarkable paintings.

At the last showing on Thursday, June 4, "Art in Literature" will be the theme.
